INDIAN DAIRYMAN: Indian Dairyman is the mouthpiece of Indian dairy industry. The lead articles of the journal are authored by experts on various fields of dairy industry like technology, engineering, cattle breeding, nutrition, animal health, feed & fodder, milk production and processing. It also carries articles on finance, marketing, management, legislation, development programmes and policies, etc. written by specialists. Indian Dairyman publishes time-to-time special issues on Quality, Milk & Milk Products, WTO, etc. A special issue of the journal, covering the proceedings, papers presented by the specialists in their respective fields as well as recommendations emerging out of each technical sessions of the Annual Dairy Conference and Seminars, etc., is published each year.

Profile of the Reader: Indian Dairyman is circulated in the various parts of the country and to the nations abroad and read by most members of the dairy community. It is being widely referred to by the Chief Executives in the Cooperatives, Federations, private and multinational organisations as well as dairy organisations in abroad. Besides, the journals are subscribed by several libraries and educational institutions in India and abroad. The readership of the journals, subscribed by various institutions as well as the libraries, is growing by leaps and bounds!
